The two years I’ve spent as a Meddeas Language Assistant have been wonderful, packed with challenges, lessons, and pure joy. I have been placed at a school with a close-knit community that welcomed me immediately. They have been nothing but supportive of my time here in Spain and as a Language Assistant. Being placed at a school can be difficult and draining, but it is one of the most rewarding experiences you could have. It has been the joy of a lifetime getting to know my students and sharing my language and culture with them.”

“

While living in Spain, I have learned a lot of things about myself. This has been the first time living away from my childhood home, and I am proud of myself for how well I have adapted to daily life here. I wasn't sure what to expect coming to Barcelona, but I have been pleasantly surprised with lasting friendships and unforgettable experiences. It feels as though I have become a part of a big family at the school I teach at. Making connections with the students and being able to teach them about my culture and language makes me excited for the work that I do. Feeling more comfortable and embracing this experience with no pressure or expectations has made it easier to find community and a purpose in my daily life.”
